DAKOTA PEARL

POTATOES for PEOPLE™

DAKOTA PEARL

Utilization: Processing for Chips & Fresh Market

Maturity: Medium Late

- Tuber size distribution is very uniform
- Tuber deformities are rare
- Skin set is excellent
 - Within two weeks of vine maturity or top kill
- Tubers are brilliant white and round
- Ideal candidate for dual purpose opportunities
- Requires a good spray control program.
- Resists:
 - Common Scab
 - Verticillium wilt
- Requires spacing and fertility management
- Developing offshore seed potato market.

Dakota Pearl is a high yielding, medium late maturing variety with fresh market applications. Tubers have efficient processing characteristics and are becoming the preferred variety for long distance shipping for processing.
